Castro Regime Handed Third Straight Defeat In U.N.

Council Discards Accusation Of U. S. Invasion

Group Ends Debate
Without Dignifying
Charge With Vote

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council Thursday night discarded Cuba's latest charge that she is facing imminent invasion from the United States.

A majority of members of the 11-nation body made clear in debate they did not believe there was any evidence to back up the charge made last Saturday by the Fidel Castro government that an invasion was coming within hours.

The council ended its two-day debate without a vote—a victory for the United States, which termed the charge ridiculous and asked that it not be dignified by formal action.

A resolution by Chile and Ecuador—merely calling on the United States and Cuba to settle their differences by peaceful means—was not pressed to a vote. Of the 11 council members, only the Soviet Union supported the Cuban charge. Ceylon and the United Arab Republic did not commit themselves. The rest of the council — Britain, Chile, Nationalist China, Ecuador, France, Liberia and Turkey — agreed with the United States that the charge had not been proved.

U.A.R. Delegate Omar Loutfi, the council president for January, ended the debate with a brief statement expressing the hope "that nothing will be done which could in any way aggravate" the tension between the United States and Cuba.

It was the third U.N. defeat for Castro's regime in its efforts to pin aggression charges on the United States.

Last July Cuba failed to stop a resolution shutting charges of economic aggression to the Organization of American States, which rejected them. Last October the Cubans failed to get immediate U.N. assembly debate on charges that the United States was preparing a big-scale military invasion. The later charge still awaits action in the assembly political committee, which is in recess until March.

In a final statement Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa insisted that the threat of invasion "still hangs over Cuba despite the U.S. denial." He declared that if American forces invade his country, "they will not meet a Cuba who is alone."

Hays to Push Gosney for Party Post

U. S. Rep. Wayne L. Hays said last night he would do everything he could to work for election of Don R. Gosney as Democratic national committeeman even though "the deck may be stacked" against Gosney.

The congressman from Ohio's 18th District charged that William L. Coleman of Marysville had been "incompetent as state Democratic chairman and would be incompetent as national committeeman."

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has indicated he favors Coleman to succeed the late Albert A. Horton as Dayton in the national party post.

Gosney, Columbiana County Democratic chairman and one of Hays' top aides, is an avowed candidate and unsuccessfully sought DiSalle's endorsement.

Hays charged that Coleman as "the architect of two disastrous defeats for Democrats in Ohio — in 1956 and 1960" and that the state chairman could not take any credit for 1958 because "right to work was the issue that year."

Any recommendation by Coleman for patronage, at least as far as the 18th District was concerned, was a "kiss of death" the congressman continued.

A national committeeman is to be picked Monday afternoon by the Democratic state central and executive committee at a meeting in Columbus.

EVEN FAREWELLS WERE COMPLICATED — Daniel M. Braddock, acting head of the U.S. Embassy in Cuba, found himself the center of gesticulating Cuban guards when he tried to board the ferry evacuating members of his staff Wednesday in Havana. Braddock, a native of Grand Rapids, Mich., had to obtain a special pass before he could bid farewell to his colleagues. A skeleton staff led by Braddock, the embassy's charge d'affaires, is staying on temporarily to wind up government business.

Troops on Move Everywhere

Anti-Invasion Fever Whipped up by Castro

HAVANA (AP)—Troops were on the move everywhere today in this Caribbean island—once a favorite winter playground—as Fidel Castro kept his nation in a frenzy to fight off the invasion he claims is coming from the United States.

The United States termed Castro's latest invasion charge ridiculous, and a majority of the U.N. Security Council said after two days of debate the Cubans had not proved the charge. But the Cuban regime put on the most intensive military display it could muster.

A wave of searches of Roman Catholic organizations and the arrest of at least nine Catholic students or teachers was reported, but it was not immediately clear whether a widespread movement against the church or its affiliates was under way.

Antiaircraft and antitank guns studded Malecon, Havana's picturesque seaford that in pre-Castro days was a favorite promenade for tourists at this time of year—mostly Americans.

Artillery emplacements sprouted throughout the rest of Havana and its suburbs.

The capital resounded to the movement of grim-faced civilian soldiers. Militia men and women patrolled rooftops with machine-guns at the ready.

Hundreds of blue-uniformed teen-agers, members of the revolutionary youth organization, carried burp guns and bazookas into the elegant Hotel Nacional overlooking the Gulf of Mexico.

The military activity cast a shadow across the "Day of Three Kings"—the traditional gift-giving day in Latin America which ends the Christmas holiday season.

Castro has charged that the Eisenhower administration is preparing to invade by Jan. 18, two days before it leaves office. If U.S. troops do not invade, Castro presumably will crow that his militant preparedness scared them off, and he will claim a victory over the hated northern neighbor.

Political and other prisoners were evacuated from Principe Prison atop a hill commanding a

Hotel Fire Fatal to 14

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A general alarm fire tore through the 160-room Thomas Hotel in downtown San Francisco just before dawn today.

Fourteen were known dead. Fire Chief William Murray said some residents were trapped in the four-story structure. The number of casualties might not be known for hours, he said.

Police blocked off Mission Street between Fifth and Sixth Streets and ambulances lined up to haul the injured and shivering survivors from the scene. Many survivors were only underwear.

Murray said all but 14 of the hotel's rooms were occupied. Many of the tenants shuffled in their bare feet on one of the cold nights in San Francisco in 10 years. The mercury dipped to 36 degrees, just seven degrees higher than the city's all-time low, registered in 1888.

'Best-Dressed' Title Goes to Mrs. Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy tops the best-dressed in the world of women's fashions, but her president-elect husband is low man on some clothes designers' totem pole.

The lovely first lady-to-be was selected Thursday night by the New York Couture Group, Inc., to head the list of the world's 12 best-attired women. Couture annually consults some 2,500 style experts and society leaders before announcing the winners.

As for the president-elect, his current supply of suits were viewed with some anxiety by members of the International Association of Clothing Designers who gathered at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Thursday for their 50th annual convention.

Some opinions on Kennedy's dress:

His coat lapels are of the old-fashioned, wide variety.

The shoulders of his suits are much too broad.

There are only two buttons on his jacket and the two buttons are too low on the suit.

After Mrs. Kennedy, the official 1960 list of best-dressed among the

14 Who Got Injections Die Of Hepatitis

New Jersey Probes
Deaths; Doctor's
License Suspended

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—The state of New Jersey is investigating the deaths of 14 patients who died of hepatitis after receiving injections from a psychiatrist. The attorney general's office, the State Board of Medical Examiners and the State Health Department all were involved in the investigation of Dr. Albert L. Weiner of Erlton, a Camden County community about five miles from Philadelphia.

The health department disclosed Thursday that it started its investigation Oct. 24, when several South Jersey hospitals informed it of an unusual number of cases of serum hepatitis, an acute liver disease.

It said it uncovered 44 cases in the next month, 14 of them fatal and all of them patients of Weiner's.

Weiner's wife told a reporter that her husband had been ill for several weeks and had taken a vacation. She did not say where he had gone, but added that he had no public comment to make.

A day after the probe started, the health department ordered Weiner 43, an osteopathic physician specializing in psychiatry, to stop giving injections to his patients. It said it took the step "as an emergency disease control measure."

A health department spokesman said Weiner apparently gave injections of various drugs to calm his patients' and it is possible the apparatus he used may have introduced the hepatitis virus into their blood.

The State Board of Medical Examiners suspended Weiner's license Dec. 21 on a temporary basis pending outcome of its probe.

Atty. Gen. David D. Furman said his office is conducting an investigation to see if Weiner's license should be suspended permanently or if any criminal prosecution should be undertaken.

Former Deputy Atty. Gen. Andrew Salvendy reported to Furman a month ago that there did not seem to be enough evidence to charge Weiner with malpractice.

No One Hurt In Two Road Mishaps

No one was injured in two auto accidents that occurred in the area Thursday, the State Patrol reported.

Edith T. McNight, 40, of RD 1, North Jackson, and Ola A. DeVee, 23 of RD 1, North Jackson, collided at the intersection of Kirk and Gault Roads south of North Jackson at 11:20 a.m.

DeVee was going south on Kirk Rd. when McNight started to cross Kirk Rd. and struck the DeVee vehicle. McNight was cited for failure to yield the right of way, the Patrol said.

In a one-car collision, George D. Potter, 22, of Niles hit a guard rail on the Ohltown Rd. at the Trumbull County line at 6:10 p.m.

Potter traveling north failed to make a curve and struck the railing.

In an accident that took place Wednesday at 9:30 p.m. at the intersection of Rt. 224 and Parkside Drive, Alfred G. Passarelli, 18, of Youngstown was struck by a tractor-trailer operated by Paul L. Reiman, 47, of Somerset, Pa.

Both drivers were going west on Rt. 224 and when Passarelli attempted to turn left, Reiman attempted to pass and the two collided.

Reiman was cited by the Patrol for improper passing.

Irony Duty Is Fulfilled By Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon has the ironic duty of officially proclaiming today that he lost the Nov. 8 presidential election to John F. Kennedy.

And he will name Lyndon B. Johnson official winner of the vice-presidential contest.

Nixon will tell a joint session of the Senate and the House that Kennedy received 303 electoral votes and Nixon 219, with the remaining 15 going to Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va. Needed to win: 269.

Under the law, the announcement is "a sufficient declaration of the persons elected president and vice president of the United States, each for the term beginning on the 20th day of January, 1961."

That announcement confirms for the history books what the electors of the 50 states made official when they met in their respective state capitols Dec. 19 and cast their votes.

The formality includes no reference to the popular vote: 34,221,531 for Kennedy, 34,108,474 for Nixon. That gave Kennedy a margin of 113,057.

Rackets Figure Files Suit for New Trial

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Mike Farah, local rackets figure, filed a motion in Trumbull County Common Pleas Court Thursday asking that his conviction for assault and battery be set aside and a new trial be granted.

Farah was sentenced to four months in jail and fined $200 and costs on charges growing out of a fight with Jean Blair, former county Republican chairman, in June of 1959.

The motion is based on Farah's contention of new evidence—a witness to the fight.

The Ohio Supreme Court refused to review the case. Farah has been free on bond.

A hearing on the motion has been set for 10 a.m. Monday before Judge G. H. Birrell.

Man Held On Murder, Arson Counts

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Police today continued questioning Peter John Cerkowski, 50, to determine how much truth can be placed in his story of killing a woman in Mechanicville, N. Y., 18 years ago and the setting of four recent fires in New Castle, Pa.

Cerkowski is being held without charge. Inspector Alvin Johnson of the New York State Police asked that the man be held until New York authorities have a chance to question him closely.

H. C. Arnold, Mechanicville police chief, said he was well acquainted with Cerkowski, who he said has spent time in New York institutions for the criminally insane. He also has a criminal record dating back to 1926, Arnold said.

New York authorities say they have no record of such a murder in Mechanicville on New Year's Day 1942. Cerkowski said he strangled a "Miss Curtis" in her home, then set fire to the residence, police reported.

Arnold said the incident may have occurred in Frogtown, near Mechanicville in upstate New York. In any event, he said, rec

President-Elect Studies Report Of Committee

Group Proposes
Emergency Measures
Held 'Needed Now'

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy has under study a call for temporary income tax cuts in the spring if the business slump takes a serious turn for the worse.

The call was sounded Thursday night by a committee appointed by Kennedy to evaluate the state of the nation's economy. It recommended that the new administration act swiftly to put into effect a sheaf of emergency measures designed to achieve recovery without resort to tax reductions in these times of international crisis.

Measures Needed Now
The study group, in a report sprinkled with indirect criticism of the Eisenhower administration's handling of the business falloff, said these measures are urgently needed now.

And the committee, headed by economist Paul A. Samuelson of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, said there should be no blind adherence to a concept of a balanced budget in times of business recession.

Kennedy, who recently expressed concern about what he termed lack of vigor in the economy, had no immediate comment on the report.

It was made public after he had reviewed the document with Samuelson; Dr. Walter W. Heller, University of Minnesota economist chosen to be chairman of the incoming president's Council of Economic Advisers; and James Tobin, Yale University economist, whose appointment to the council was announced by Kennedy Thursday night.

As the other member of the three-man council, Kennedy named Kermit Gordon, the Ford

Bomb Blasts Mark Voting In Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—The Algerian countryside bristled with police roadblocks and troop patrols today as voting began on President Charles de Gaulle's plan to give Algeria local self-government now and a chance to vote for independence if the bloody rebellion ends.

The voting started in apparent calm throughout the Algerian countryside, but in Algeria four bombs aimed at the power lines of Radio Algiers went off just before it was to carry De Gaulle's first appeal for support of his proposals. The bombs caused major damage, but did not stop relay of the speech.

De Gaulle called once more for a massive "yes" vote so that negotiations with all factions on Algeria's future could be arranged "with the smallest delay possible."

Speaking from Paris to the nearly 27 million voters of France who on Sunday will decide the outcome of the referendum, he implied that if his plan is defeated, forces outside France would impose a solution in Algeria. To vote "no" would be to recognize that the problem would not be solved by France, he said.

In Algeria, 3.9 million Moslems,

Democratic Machinery Failed

Nation's Tragedy: Civil War Could Have Been Averted

Editor's Note — The greatest tragedy of the Civil War, argues historian Bruce Catton, is that it was not in fact necessary. In this last in a series of articles, he reports a conversation which indicates how easily men of reason and good will could have reached a compromise.

By BRUCE CATTON
Written For
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One of the most tragic things about the coming of the Civil War is the fact that just before the curtain went up two men—possibly without quite realizing it—showed how the business might have been settled.

Late in February, 1861, 10 days or so before the Lincoln administration took office, William H. Seward of New York, who was about to become Lincoln's secretary of state, met at a Washington dinner party with Justice John A. Campbell of the Supreme Court.

Would Go With State

Campbell was a good Alabamian, and when the split came he would go with his state. But this night he and Seward, in friendship, discussed the great problem and agreed that the Union ought not to be allowed to break up over the slavery issue.

In their talk they said the things that someone ought to have been saying earlier, out in public—in the national political conventions, in the presidential campaign, in Congress, or somewhere.

Slavery, said Campbell, was a transitory institution; it would inevitably be greatly modified or abandoned altogether in the course of time. Modification in fact was already taking place; for years slavery had been receding in the Upper South, and it was really flourishing now only in the rich plantation area of the Deep South. There slavery was thriving, and it perhaps would be 25 years before that area's expanding needs for slave labor were fully met.

Battle Lost in Territories

Seward interrupted him here to remark: "Say 50 years." Very well: 50 years, in all, before the institution would have reached the limit of its development. Meanwhile, said Campbell, the most the slavery group could ask was the continued protection of slavery in the states where it already existed. In the territories the battle was lost—New Mexico, for instance, had been open to slave immigration for a full decade and only 29 slaves had been taken there.

Again Seward interrupted: "Only 24, sir." Twenty-four, in 10 years, under full protection of the laws. Was there any sense, asked Justice Campbell, in letting the Union be destroyed over the question of slavery in the territories when slavery obviously was not going to establish itself in the territories in any case? Seward agreed that there was not.

Could Have Been Verted

Now this talk ended in nothing better than friendly agreement between the Northerner and the Southerner over an after-dinner brandy. But can anyone doubt that if talk of that kind had been carried on openly, in convention and on the political stump and in newspaper columns, over the years, the tragic break-up of the Union might have been averted?

Two men, one from Alabama and one from New York, talking unemotionally in a drawing room could so easily agree that the issue could and should be handled; could agree that the very cause of the dispute was itself dying and would, if men approached it reasonably, presently reduce itself to manageable size. Was it not incumbent, somewhere along the line, on responsible leaders, politicians, editors and plain citizens to have said the same thing in public?

That is what our democratic machinery is for. It gives us the chance to handle problems which, left to the emotions, become unmanageable. The nation's enduring tragedy is that in 1860 and 1861 that machinery was not used. We have only this haunting record of a conversation between Seward and Campbell to remind us of what might have been done.

June Allyson To Divorce Dick Powell

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The 15-year marriage of June Allyson and Dick Powell—an unusually durable union by filmtown averages—is washed up, her attorney says.

And when the principals part, one of Hollywood's biggest fortunes will be split up with them. Jerry Giesler, the attorney who has led many of the town's disenchanted famous through the divorce mill, said Thursday night he expects to file a suit on Miss Allyson's behalf within a few weeks.

The actress, 37, reached later at her Hollywood home, began crying and told a newsmen: "There is just nothing I can say." Powell, 56, is in Europe on business with a partner, actor David Niven.

Giesler said a property settlement is being drawn up. No specific figures were known, but it was estimated Miss Allyson's share might be between $1 million and $5 million.

Powell has enjoyed immense financial success, not only as an actor but as a producer. He is part owner of Four-Star Productions, a prolific producer of television shows. Miss Allyson stars on her husband's TV anthology series, "The June Allyson Show."

The collapse of the marriage was not unexpected. Powell and his wife separated for about a month several years ago. Since then it has been general Hollywood talk that their marriage was in danger.

The Powells have two children, Pamela, 12, and Ricky, 9. This is Miss Allyson's first marriage. Powell had two previously, to Mildred Maund of Arkansas and actress Joan Blondell. Both ended in divorce.

Asked what grounds Miss Allyson would use in a divorce action, Giesler replied: "Oh, the usual—mental cruelty."

There will be no detailed allegations, he said.

How to Whip Tension

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Tension is an annoyance to the housewife and office worker, but in the fast paced world of show business it is a daily problem in survival. How do entertainment stars whip tension?

Glamorous Mary Healy has her own secret way—one which she feels will work for you as well as it does for her.

"Practically everyone today lives at the jerky tempo of a speeded up old silent movie," she said. "Everyone has frustrations, no matter what his job—but you have to learn to quit fighting them all the time while you're awake, and letting them give you nightmares while you sleep."

"Take a few minutes every day to yourself. Take time out for fun. No matter how busy your day, find time to commune with your self."

"If you're going somewhere, don't drive the cab. Don't fly the plane."

"Force yourself to let go. Relax completely—physically and mentally."

"Let everything go. Drain your veins of go."

"It's hard to do. You have to practice."

Mary insists her system will work for anyone.

"If you can, take a walk or sit where it is lonely and quiet," she advised. "But even in a crowded noisy place you can find a personal peace if you learn to let go deliberately of every tension of mind and body for five minutes."

"You'll snap back feeling better."

"It sounds like mere words, but you can put it into action if you try."

Her theory finds living proof in Mary herself. After 22 years of stardom in movies, radios and night clubs, she is still as slender and fresh-faced as the day she quit a secretary's job in New Orleans to go to Hollywood.

She and her husband, Peter Lind Hayes, are currently featured in an NBC-TV series. When the series ends, Mary wants either to do one more Broadway show or retire as a performer.

Ohio Civil War Observance To Start In Church Pulpits

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Pulpits of many Ohio churches will be the starting place Sunday of this state's observance of the Civil War Centennial, 1961-1965.

The Ohio Civil War Centennial Commission has addressed an appeal to the state's religious leaders, saying the commission is counting on clergymen to participate not only on Proclamation Sunday, "but as occasion arises throughout the century."

The centennial proclamation of President Eisenhower will be broadcast at 11 a.m. Sunday, marking the start of the centennial program.

Spokesmen for the commission expressed gratification at the response of the leaders of religious faiths to "call upon the people to rededicate and reconsecrate themselves to the great ideals which motivated their ancestors a century ago."

Almost a third of a million Ohio men—the exact number was 319,19 — fought for the Union out of a population of 2,343,739 at the start of the war. Fighting on every major battlefield in the four years of conflict, 35,475 Ohioans died in the war.

Ohio's first event in the centennial program will come Feb. 13. At that time a plaque will be dedicated at the Statehouse commemorating President-elect Abraham Lincoln's address before a joint session of the Ohio General Assembly.

A similar commemorative plaque will be dedicated in Cleveland Feb. 16 to mark Lincoln's overnight stay there in the Weddell House.

National and state attention will be center in Gallipoli May 28 on the occasion of "Muster Day," planned by the commission to mark the massing of Ohio militia a century ago to invade western Virginia.

Out of that successful military movement West Virginia emerged in 1863 as a war-born state and was admitted into the Union.

Dann O. Taber, Gallipoli businessman and Gallia County state representative, is general chairman of "Muster Day." Participation of the entire southeastern district of Ohio has been indicated.

West Virginia's commemoration of the battle of Philippi, a minor action sometimes called the first battle of the Civil War, will follow on June 3. The Ohio and West Virginia commissions are collaborating on events that concern both states.

Salem Beauty Shop Has 4-Minute Drier

The jet age is a boon to milady's curls. Kaercher's Beauty Salon at the Southeast Plaza has installed—the first in Ohio—a new type of hair dryer that cuts the time women spend under a hair dryer from 45 minutes or an hour to just four or five minutes.

Mrs. Josephine Kaercher, a beautician here for 20 years, explains that the new machine has 12 bright blue tubes from a bullet-shaped unit which are plugged into plastic rollers, which are used to curl the hair. Warm air dries the hair from the inside out, the opposite of the present practice.

No chemicals are used. "It's just a more efficient use of air," she explained. "Since none of the air actually hits the scalp, it is 10 times hotter than normal."

Gold first was discovered in Colorado at Englewood in 1859.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Readers: The wet noodle comes out of retirement—or, better still, I'll take 10 swats with Webster's dictionary, unabridged. Did you know that when sisters marry, the husbands of said sisters are not even remotely related? I'll bet you thought the boys were brothers-in-law. Well, so did I—but I know better now. About 400 readers have told me.

I will explain it as dozens of readers explained it to me:

Princess Margaret is a sister-in-law to Prince Philip because she is his wife's sister. But Margaret's husband, Mr. Jones, is no relation whatever to Prince Philip. They are just a couple of ice boys who married sisters.

My apologies to the reader who asked the original question. And my thanks to all you nice people who wrote to set me straight.

An Eye Opener

Dear Ann Landers: I've been dating Joe for over a year. We work in the same plant and I knew he was married but he said it wasn't working out. Joe never spoke of his wife, except to say she was sloppy and stupid.

Guilford

Ruralites Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Paul Flugan for a holiday party and gift exchange. Prizes went to Mrs. Mary Fry and Mrs. Howard Gray. Mrs. Ray Porter of Columbiana was a guest. Mrs. Porter assisted the hostess in serving lunch. Mrs. Fry will be hostess on Jan. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Houanmic spent Thursday in Beaver Falls, Pa., visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wilson, daughter Pamela and Mrs. Helen Schell of East Liverpool, visited Mr. and Mrs. John Hindman over the weekend.

Tom Pike was a guest Monday evening on the TV program, "To Tell the Truth" in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mason of Pittsburgh, Pa., visited friends in Guilford over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Boring and son Michael of Youngstown visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Flugan Monday.

Pvt. Robert Clewell of Fort Knox has concluded a 14 day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Clewell. Lynn Clewell has returned to Hiram College after spending the holidays with her parents.

Mrs. James Dimmerling is a patient in the Salem City Hospital.

Rogers

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wright of Rogers spent Christmas with their daughter Mr. and Mrs. William T. Jane Longenbacher of Madison, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Jenkins and Janet, Susan and Wade, spent Christmas at the home of Mr. Jenkins parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Brown, Sr. of Lisbon.

Miss Lynne Elliott, daughter of Atty. and Mrs. Donald W. Elliott spent the holiday vacation with her parents. Miss Elliott is a senior at Kent State University.

Miss Judy Hiding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hiding was home on vacation from Miami University.

Mrs. Norman Wright of Rogers and her niece Miss Agnes Cope of Lakewood visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morris of Logstown and Mrs. Arthur Evans of Lisbon Friday.

Guests of Mrs. Florence Bable were Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Brown, Sr. of Lisbon Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lipock were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gorby Sr., of Rogers.

Although Jordan's frontiers are about 1,000 miles long, only five miles are on the water—the Gulf of Aqaba.

In August I went to the company picnic with some girls from the plant. Joe hung around me as usual. One of his buddies came over and warned me to "be careful" because Joe's wife and kids had just arrived on the bus.

When I saw them I almost died. His wife looked about 50 years old and she had six little kids hanging on to her skirts. Three were still in diapers.

I felt so ashamed of myself I was sick to my stomach. Joe ignored them as if they were strangers. Finally I told him to leave me alone and go to his family.

I've been feeling so guilty that I'm sure the only way I can square things with myself is to go to his wife and beg her forgiveness. Should I?—LOWER THAN LOW.

Dear Low: No. YOU may feel better, but it won't help her much.

The best way to square yourself is to stay as far away from Joe as possible. Best of all, why don't you find another job?

at the very first pass, told to grow up and go home to their families—where they belong.

Troubled Teen-Agers

Dear Ann: We are three teens with a problem which has nothing to do with boys for a change.

My father has a younger brother who lives in a big city far away from here. I will call him Uncle Pete.

He was the "black sheep" of the family and ran away from home when he was 15. He got into trouble and disgraced the family. No one heard anything from him for about 15 years.

Last May he came to town to surprise his mother on her 70th birthday. He had a big car, swel clothes and said he was doing fine in the construction business. He was awfully nice to everybody but my Dad gave him the cold shoulder. (Mom said he was jealous of Pete's success.)

Last week my sisters and I each got a $20 check from Uncle Pete—Christmas money. Dad says return it because it may be tainted. Mom says he is respectable now and we should forget the past. We need your advice.—SISTERS.

Dear Sisters: When in doubt assume the best, not the worst. I say keep the money and thank Uncle Pete.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

System Within a System

When Americans talk about their "two-party system," they mean the straight-out division between the Democratic and Republican parties that gives voters the option of throwing rascals in and out of political power. But this is only the outward appearance of the two-party system.

Within each party there is a further division of political opinion. Intraparty differences are commonly deeper and more hotly contested than the differences between the two parties. The struggle for intraparty supremacy is endless and bitter.

Even within individuals there is this same divisive impulse at work. Conservatives sometimes are tempted to take the progressive side. Radicals are tempted to stand pat. There is, indeed, nothing more stand-patish than a radical who becomes doctrinaire and tries to impose his views on all others.

THIS IS ALL part of the two-party system in America. It is not a charter for Democrats and Republicans but a charter for differences of opinion.

One of these differences is the issue for an early showdown in Congress this year: Can the views of northern liberals be imposed on southern reactionaries?

In the Senate, this is the issue over the filibuster. As long as southern reactionaries can use the right of unlimited debate, they can talk to death any move to enact civil rights laws they do not want.

In the House, it's the issue of breaking the stranglehold of southern reactionaries on the Rules Committee, which decides what proposals shall reach the floor for voting and what proposals shall be pigeonholed.

This division between conservatives and progressives — in some instances between reactionaries and radicals — is part of the two-party system. Although it usually is presented as defiance of the system, the right to talk legislative proposals to death is one way of preserving the system. Otherwise southern Democrats would be forced out of the Democratic party; their marriage of convenience to liberals would be broken up on the rocks of their differences on the civil rights issue.

Similarly, in the House, the legislative prerogative of a few reactionary committee chairman to sit on proposals hateful to them is part of the two-party system.

HENCE, Republicans join Democrats in guarding it, just as other Republicans join other Democrats in attacking it. There is a deep and honest difference of opinion.

Until last Nov. 8, it seemed likely that the southern viewpoint among Democrats in both the Senate and House was destined to lose strength because the South seemed to be declining in political influence. But after Nov. 8, Democrats realized what had been grimly evident to Republicans.

Without its strength in the Deep South, the Democratic party would no longer be a formidable rival.

Never did the Democratic party have to rely more heavily on its southern fraction to back up its strength in the machine-bossed cities of the North.

This is not likely to be the year when Democrats will do anything drastic to reduce their southern fraction's jealously guarded power. The filibuster will be preserved in the Senate. So will the power of the House Rules Committee to stifle legislative proposals under its ultra-conservative chairman, the Hon. Howard W. Smith of Virginia.

A Special Kind of Gratitude

Vice President Nixon, report newsmen in Washington, has declined an invitation to take part in a television show giving President Eisenhower a sendoff next month because he prefers to stay out of the public eye.

We think Mr. Nixon is right in this. It is another sign of his extraordinary instinct for doing and saying the right thing in his political role. But it is a reminder to all the people who supported him last November that a political loser has a lonesome job to perform.

Not that Mr. Nixon is lonesome as an individual; anything but that. He has no want of friends and chances to make new ones. His lonesomeness is that of the politician who must walk alone in politics until the next time, if it ever comes.

It never came again for Adlai E. Stevenson. It never came again for Herbert Hoover. In a sense, it never came again for Harry Truman, who did not want to try again for the presidency but clearly wanted to try for key influence in the party. In that respect, Mr. Truman must be aware that Thomas E. Dewey landed in a much better spot in the Republican party, where he still has key influence.

THERE IS a special kind of gratitude owing to the loser in a national election. And for Vice President Nixon there is a special kind of special gratitude, because he put on the strongest possible campaign under the heaviest possible handicap. He was not Dwight D. Eisenhower, and the economy was not booming.

He was Richard M. Nixon, asking for the privilege of succeeding the most popular vote-getter of all time. He was a career politician who had made many enemies on his way to party leadership. He was the proverbial poor boy who had made it to the top the hard way. The Nixons, man and wife, were the American success story.

The Nixons symbolized and articulated the American dream-land they almost made it to the White House, where they would have been a brilliant and attractive image for their countrymen. President-elect Kennedy and his wife will be attractive, too, but in a different way. To them the White House is one more place to live, not much nicer than the places they have lived all their lives.

EVERYTHING under the sun will be dealt with in the year-end reviews as it always is. The national election will get its share of attention, along with the slump in business and the hump in unemployment.

Mr. Kennedy and his party, having been declared winners, will get the credit that properly belongs to the winning side. But this year credit belongs to the leader of the losing side. No one cheers for a losing presidential candidate, a losing football team, or a losing race horse. But the losers make the winners look good by extending them to the utmost.

Vice President Nixon gave John F. Kennedy a run for his money and all the money that was put up to him.

Among the outstanding events of 1960, the race he almost won and the way he ran it will be remembered long after other events have been hazed over by forgetfulness.

Happy New Year to Richard Nixon and his loyal and lovely "running mate"—Pat.

In Behalf of the Steel Industry

If the United Steelworkers Union had been as willing to listen to management's ideas for efficient production as it is now to talk about making more jobs and manufacturing more steel, the omen for understanding would be bright.

But summer before last, nearly all the nation's steel industry lay idle because union spokesmen refused to consider a proposal to re-examine work rules with a view to suggesting improvements. That was the central issue of the 1959 strike.

Steel management wanted to tighten up the efficiency of production to make steel more competitive with other materials that had been edging in on its markets and to cool off red-hot competition from steel made abroad.

It proposed nothing drastic—merely a study of existing work rules. All recommendations for change would have had to be screened and rescreened before they could have been adopted—and then adopted only with union consent. But the United Steelworkers Union would have none of it.

The deadlock lasted 116 days.

THE SETTLEMENT offered no direct assurance of management-union cooperation to tighten up steel production.

Its net effect, once steel inventories had been rebuilt, was to make thousands of steel workers the highest-paid unemployed and part-time artisans of their kind in the world.

The American steel industry earned the right to lead the world because it set the fastest pace for efficiency. It has continued to make itself so efficient that stiffening foreign competition can touch it only through payment of low wages. If it had a free rein to improve its man-hour costs in the same way it has improved its mechanical operation, it would continue to be unbeatable.

Japanese wage standards, German wage standards, British wage standards and even competition from aluminum and other materials would not be worrisome.

This could be done, moreover, without hurting American wage scales.

But the United Steelworkers Union would not consent to having it discussed in connection with its new contract. When the contract finally was drawn, there were merely nominal reference to the matter—a clause with no effect.

THE UNION'S spokesman now wants to talk seriously about sprucing up the steel industry and getting more men back to work. Management would like to do some sprucing up too, but it can't be blamed for thinking the union is a little late in showing its interest.

If they can get together, it will be better late than never. This has been one of America's dreams—that in this great country the class warfare of the Old World could be chucked and managers and workers could see eye to eye.

If they were to spend half as much time and energy licking their common problems as they have spent trying to lick each other, the sky would be the limit for productive efficiency in the United States.

Victor Riesel

I found that once I got out of the elephant grass in Lumumba's Oriental Province and drove past the cobra country in the Kingdom of Toro, I was among friends in Karamoja, Uganda. There 'our side' has thrown in a few chips to set up a sleepy little 'college' to train labor leaders—the theory being that in Africa every union president is a potential prime minister.

But the 'peoples' Sino-Soviet bloc strategists have gone in for buying up kings and prime ministers in power, figuring that one in the hand is worth several in the bush country. Apparently they've done better than we think. Right there you have the story behind the emergency Thursday session of the AFL-CIO Executive Council, labor's high command.

When, on Dec. 22, national labor chief George Meany issued a 3½ line call for the parley, insiders rushed to their phones to contact John Kennedy's headquarters. Would the President-elect be there to hear what the labor leaders wanted? No, he would not.

THE SESSION, said Meany to all his aides, was to discuss Africa. But if the union economists wanted to throw up a legislative program, okay, the 29-man high council would simply pass a resolution. But Africa and the big Sino-Soviet push there was the thing for the day.

Meany believes that most of the European unions have gone soft in their fight on the Soviets. He had been briefed by the AFL-CIO's roving representative, Irving Brown, late in November, when both were in Brussels before it was riot-torn by Socialist unions. Brown now is in the Cameroons—one of the few white men trusted by African leaders.

There, for example, the Sino-Soviet bloc was gun running for the Communist underground section of the Union des Populations du Cameroons. This is the guerilla and terrorist force now fighting against 'our side.'

Then there is Ghana where as late as July '56 there was no Communist party.

There were a few Communists inside the Ghana unions but there was no infiltration in the Convention Peoples party (a Socialist party). Now, of course, Ghana's prime minister, who learned his tactics in an American union, has placed his country inside the Sino-Soviet bloc.

IN MOROCCO, where a king reigns, anti-Communist labor men have been jailed and slugged by the political police of crown prince and vice premier, Moulay Hassan. The royal pitch now is for the Soviets.

There is, also, a grim report from well-informed Vatican sources. This report, issued on Nov. 14 by the Vatican missionary agency, Fides, denounced the dangers in the Chinese penetration in Africa. Fides said that the continent had become a "theater of operation for Communist China."

"There are 600 Chinese in Morocco, 300 in Damascus and 4,000 employed in the rice paddies of Guinea (whose president, Sekou Toure, is also a labor leader).

"Furthermore, a large Chinese team specializing in Communist propaganda is established in Yemen with Africa as its objectives. As early as 1952, the Peking government announced that the liberation of Africa would be the task of the Chinese People's Republic."

EVERYWHERE in former French and Belgian Western and Equatorial Africa, there are cadres of special Soviet organizers. They were planted there long ago, by the French and Belgian Communist parties.

Their "underground" headquarters are in Brazzaville across the muddy Congo from Leopoldville. Now George Meany believes the deadline is here for swift action and wants U.S. labor "to go it alone in Africa" without waiting for the European Socialists.

Inside American labor there are three attitudes—Meany's "to hell with the soft crowd," some old CIO leaders who want to and have been working closely with the European Socialist unions and a group which just isn't thinking much about anything south of Miami Beach and east of the Atlantic City boardwalk.

Too bad there's slumber and a split. At stake is a continent not only laden with 220 million people but with enough gold and diamonds and uranium to upset the value of everything we have at Fort Knox and much of what we're doing at Cape Canaveral.

Better System of Picking Congressmen Needed

True liberals are always worried when the so-called liberals pass up an opportunity to advance the cause of democracy and representative government.

Many days have passed with not a word from the professed defenders of liberal causes condemning three cases in which the civil rights of American citizens have just been disregarded. Here they are:

CASE NO. 1: In Wyoming, the people at the election last November chose a Republican to be United States senator for a term of six years, but he died before he could be sworn in this month. Instead of providing the people of Wyoming with an opportunity in a special election within 60 days to choose a successor, the governor, a Democrat, who had two years more to serve in his present office, decided to resign in favor of the Wyoming secretary of state, so that he—the governor—could be appointed to serve as United States senator for the next two years.

Under the laws of the State of Wyoming, a senator is not elected by the people to fill a vacancy until the next general election, which will be in November 1961. Thus, the majority of the people of Wyoming, who elected a Republican to the United States senate in November, have been deprived of a senator of their own party and even of the chance to elect one until two years have elapsed.

CASE NO. 2: In Massachusetts, when Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democrat, with four years more of his term to serve, was elected president of the United States, a Republican governor was elected the same day.

Instead of letting the latter appoint the new senator to fill the vacancy, the outgoing governor, a Democrat, had a conference with Mr. Kennedy, in which the latter dictated the appointment of his crony, Benjamin Smith, who never has been elected to Congress or to any statewide office. By resigning before Jan. 1, Sen. Kennedy prevented the new Republican governor from making the appointment.

This kind of political maneuvering is not novel but it doesn't erase the fact that a successor to Sen. Kennedy cannot be voted on by the people of Massachusetts now for two years. When the election is held in 1962, the successful candidate will then serve for just two years.

Only in 1964 will there be an election for the full six-year term. Why aren't the people of Massachusetts given an opportunity now to elect a senator for the four years remaining in Sen. Kennedy's term?

CASE NO. 3: Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Democrat, had his name in two places on the ballot in Texas in the election last November. He was a candidate for vice president of the United States and at the same time a candidate for reelection to a six-year term as United States senator. He won both elections.

This type of thing has happened once before in another state, but, aside from the obvious irregularity in depriving the people of a chance to pick a different man in each party for two offices, the Texas laws do provide for a special election within 60 to 90 days when there is a vacancy in the United States senate.

The time is ripe for a change in this anomalous situation. With all the talk about modifying the Electoral College system, it would appear that an even more urgent need today is to provide a uniform system of selecting members of the United States Congress.

This could permit the governor to make an immediate appointment to fill a vacancy but the appointee would serve only until a special election is held within 60 days. A senator or representative then elected would serve the entire remainder of the unexpired term.

IN ARTICLE 1 of the Constitution, the following is provided: "The times, places and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to places of choosing senators."

So it would appear that the civil rights of the peoples of the various states, particularly of Wyoming and Massachusetts, could be restored by a simple act of Congress providing for a special election to be held within 60 days to fill vacancies in either the U.S. House of Representatives or the U.S. Senate.

Maybe civil rights should be changed to read constitutional rights, because Congress does have the power to take action to prevent a recurrence of the three cases enumerated above.

It might take a constitutional amendment to insure that no man would be allowed to run for two or more offices in the same election, although the Constitution already forbids the same individual from holding office simultaneously in both the executive and the legislative branches of the federal government.

Purely Personal

Automobile fatalities don't startle me, in view of the millions of high-speed vehicles in motion and the myriads of careless operators driving them. What does startle me is the number of drownings in summertime and deaths from fires in wintertime — about a fifth as many from fire over the New Year's weekend as from traffic.

Is it not true that every well-run office is a tribute to one ultra-efficient woman who holds things together and sees to it that everybody does what he or she — but mostly he — is supposed to do? No dissent? Then it's true.

On one of those frosty mornings when there's snow on the ground and everything is white, the lady I eat breakfast with said it was like being inside a bottle of milk and looking out, which is something I wish I'd thought of it first, because it left nothing unsaid.

I suppose that eventually all of us will get used to a leadership image with all that hair but it's going to be especially hard for us hairless ones, who are imbued with the belief that baldness betokens wisdom as well as decrepitude.

I like the idea of the Feast of Epiphany, commemorating the coming of the Magi for western Christians. In Spain, it's known as the Day of Kings and children celebrate it by placing shoes on balconies and near front doors. The shoes contain straw and grain for the horses of the Kings — the Magi — the Spanish Santa Claus.

The idea of rehabilitating dying neighborhoods leaves me cold, unless something can be done to limit the life of buildings to justify the expense of rehabilitation. All buildings, it seems to me, should bear a limit on their useful lives and either be demolished or rebuilt when the limit is reached.

Another of my money-making ideas has been taken over by someone else — grand opera in the movies, with color, closeups, photographic actors and all the spectators and listeners getting the same break on sight and sound.

Years ago when the multiflora hedge was planted along one side of our house, we liked the idea of birds finding a refuge in it during severe weather and living off its seeds. This winter, besides the usual number of small birds, there have been as many as eight hen pheasants taking advantage of the hedge, which is one more reason I take a dim view of hunters blowing ing pheasants to pieces with shotguns.

If it bothers you to hear newscasters pronounce Laos as if it were spelled "louse," you are right and they are wrong. It's a two-syllable name — Lay-ose, or, if you prefer, Lay-as. But not Lous.

I would rather be a newspaper cartoonist than anything I can think of, if I could draw the good ones. But for every good cartoon there are several hundred bad ones to make me grateful I do not have to meet THAT kind of challenge every day.

I find myself in agreement with those who believe every school teacher should read John Hersey's "The Child Buyer," not because they will like it or even understand it but because every school teacher needs to know that education is not a science but an art and educators who ignore this are, in all probability, frauds.

A friend of mine who wonders why somebody doesn't make a plastic Christmas tree that would look like the real thing reminds me of my project to make synthetic fiber out of sheep wool — something that could be used for cloth. I must get busy on this in time for the spring shearing.

At long last, I tired of watching football on television but not as completely as I have tired of watching baseball, basketball and hockey, where everything seems to be the same. In football, there's always the possibility of something different.

The Mid-County Republican Club met Wednesday night in the village hall with a sizable crowd in attendance.

Reports were given for the past year and thank-you letters were read from various candidates, E. U. Whitacre, county chairman, and Mrs. Mary Holeman, county women's chairman, for the support received from the club in the past election.

Mrs. Joan Dixon, retiring president, conducted the installation service and the meeting was turned over to the new officers. Mrs. Vida Davies will serve as president and will announce committees later. Atty. Joseph Barozzi is the first vice president; Charles Hill, second vice president; Mrs. Esther DeTemple, secretary, and Mrs. Charlotte Crothers, treasurer. Tentative plans were made to hold a card party in February, with Merle Burson as chairman, and a dance in March or April.

Atty. Charles Pike explained the filing procedure and date for those wishing to seek municipal office in the May primary.

The next meeting will be Thursday, Feb. 9, when Superintendent of School Russell Armitage will explain the bond issue for school purposes. The public is invited.

MCKINLEY SCHOOL PTA will join with Lincoln School PTA Monday, Jan. 9, at 7:30 p.m. at the Lincoln School for an all important meeting. The public as well as members are urged to attend.

The Lisbon School Board and Superintendent Armitage will be present and a panel discussion will take place on the bond issue for increasing the number of school rooms in the Lisbon district. Atty. Charles Pike will serve as moderator, and the panel will be composed of John Snyder, Mrs. Betty Rutter, seventh grade teacher, and Mrs. Ruth Kelm. A question box will be placed at the school preceding the meeting and anyone may place it in the box.

Devotions will be in charge of Mrs. Rutter's seventh grade, and Mrs. Richard Kennedy will preside at the business. A junior PTA will be held for the young people attending.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lewton of W. High St. observed New Year's on Monday with open house for friends and neighbors from 11 o'clock a.m. through 4 o'clock.

They began this custom seven years ago when they invited persons who would be alone for the holiday or those who would like to watch the Tournament of Roses on TV to join them.

A traditional sauerkraut and pork dinner was enjoyed from a buffet table laid in the dining room. Decorations were in keeping with the New Year's season.

WSCS Church Women Plan For World Day of Prayer

World Day of Prayer was announced for Feb. 17 when members of the Women's Society of Christian Service assembled in the music room of the First Methodist Church Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. James Cunningham conducted the prayer service in the chapel, prior to the meeting. She directed the meditations on the theme, "In Quietness and Confidence."

Mrs. Lester Baldinger presented the piano prelude and accompanied the group in singing "Another Year is Dawning."

Mrs. Homer Taylor presided at the business session with 30 in attendance. Members were reminded of the School of Missions beginning Sunday and continuing for four successive Sunday evenings, from 5 to 7:30 p.m.

"Heritage and Horizons" was the program topic. Mrs. William Wright, program chairman, presented the devotion entitled, "Our Christian Heritage." She related this heritage to life at home, work and church and stated that God is a part of man's inheritance in all of these areas.

The three Magi, their camels and the Bible, opened to the second chapter of Matthew, were on the altar to represent the story of Epiphany. A lighted candle at the side symbolized the living Christ. Mrs. Cunningham was responsible for this setting.

The plight of the Spanish-speaking people was revealed in a film strip shown by Mrs. Dwayne Stanley. A recorded narration interpreted the action which disclosed the need for Christian aid on this horizon.

Greeters for the day were from the Lois Zimmerman Group. The Hannah Gallagher Group served refreshments from a lace-covered buffet table, centered with a floral arrangement.

The Feb. 1 meeting will begin with a chapel service at 1 p.m. and business and program at 1:30 p.m. "Woman's Changing Role" is the program theme of Mrs. J. L. Getz, program chairman.

Mrs. Johnston was awarded the special prize for the evening. Lunch was served by Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. Laverne Owen, Mrs. Fishel, Mrs. Stella Whited and Mrs. Edith Keeler.

Holy Trinity Church Report Given For Year

Reports for 1960 were presented when Holy Trinity English Lutheran Church held a congregational meeting Sunday.

Rev. G. D. Keister's report showed the following: 40 new members received; 27 children and eight adults received the Sacrament of Holy Baptism; 1,709 persons received Holy Communion; 43 home Communions were given; 19 funerals were conducted; eight weddings were solemnized; 59 sermons were preached; 934 pastoral calls were made; 30 boys and girls were instructed in the Catechism Classes; 252 was the average Sunday Church School attendance; 261 was the average church service attendance; and seven members were called by death.

A report showed that the congregation has been placed on the honor roll of the Lutheran Synod of Ohio for the 27th consecutive year for its contributions to missions, benevolence projects of the church and to World Relief.

Celebration of the Sacrament of Holy Communion will be held on Sunday at two services, 8:30 and 11 a.m. Rev. Karl Mix, chaplain of the Lutheran Service Society, will be in charge.

Classes On Parenthood To Be Resumed On Jan. 25

Any expectant mother interested in learning more about parenthood and pre-natal preparation may enroll in the Parenthood Education Classes to begin Jan. 25.

Classes are held each Wednesday at 7 p.m. for five consecutive weeks in the Hannah E. Mullins Nurses Home, under the sponsorship of the Nurses Alumnae Association of Salem City Hospital.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stacey RN, public health nurse, is the instructor for the course, and will be assisted by staff nurses from City Hospital and the Central Clinic. Refreshments are provided by the Women's Auxiliary of Salem Hospitals.

Enrollment is urged as soon as possible, and expectant mothers may obtain a registration card from her own physician or may call the Salem Health Department at ED 7-8543.

The following topics will be discussed: "How Your Baby Grows before Birth and Your Way of Life During Pregnancy," "Your Food Needs," "Preparation for Labor and Delivery," "Supplies for the Baby," and "Needs for Your Child During Growth and Development."

The course also includes a tour of the hospital in which the mother-to-be expects to be delivered. The course is approved by both state and city health departments and the medical staffs at the local hospitals, and is meant only to supplement, not take the place of, regular visits to their physicians.

"Education for Parenthood" has as its goal the health and happiness of each family member.

There is no charge for the course.

an official registered letter from Hawaii. The letter contains certification that Kennedy is entitled to the state's three electoral votes. The final decision — giving Kennedy the state by 115 votes—had been delayed by a recount.

The constitution requires Congress to meet in joint session to formally tally the ballots of the state electors. In effect, it makes Congress a board of canvassers.

The electoral vote count session is one of the few joint meetings over which the vice president presides. Normally, the speaker of the House presides at joint sessions.

Foundation's director of economic development and administration. The president-elect plans to fly late today to Washington for a series of business conferences. The first is scheduled tonight with Dean Rusk, who will be secretary of state in the new administration.

Kennedy intends to return to New York Sunday morning for more pre-inaugural meetings.

In advance of Thursday's conference on the economy, he met two hours with leaders of several farm organizations to discuss what he has called the farm crisis. He asked the group to come up with farm program recommendations at another session scheduled for Jan. 26 in Washington.

Today, other study committees he has appointed will get together with him to report on Latin American problems, education, housing and urban affairs and international exchange programs in cultural and other fields.

Kennedy also arranged a conference today with Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The Kennedy-appointed committee recommended:

1. Any defense spending that is deemed desirable for its own sake "can only help rather than hinder our economy in the period immediately ahead."
2. An increase in foreign aid spending, skillfully tailored to take into account the greater outflow of dollars than the influx, deserves "high national priority in a period like this one."
3. Urban renewal programs, including slum clearance and improvement of transportation facilities, "represent desirable projects that should come high on the policy agenda."
4. Vigorous pushing of federal aid for education, including funds for school construction, teachers' salaries and increased loans for college dormitories.
5. Health and welfare programs, including medical care for the aged financed through the Social Security system, increased grants for hospital construction and continued large grants for medical research.
6. Improved unemployment compensation. The committee called for emergency legislation to permit all states to continue paying unemployment benefits—perhaps at a stepped-up rate—for at least 39 weeks.
7. A program of useful public works, accelerated to the extent feasible without disrupting their orderly execution.
8. Encouragement of residential housing construction, through such steps as reduction of mortgage interest rates to 4½ per cent.

Rt. 30 Work At Liverpool To Begin Soon

The contractor for the relocation of U. S. Route 30 through East Liverpool has announced that work will begin about Jan. 16, weather permitting.

A preconstruction conference was held at the State Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia to discuss work schedules for the 2.5 mile project. At the meeting the representatives of Chapin and Chapin and Baker and Hickey stated that they expected to move equipment onto the job site next Monday and that construction is expected to begin the following Monday.

Present at the meeting, in addition to State Highway Department officials, were Robert F. Chapin, president of Chapin and Baker Inc. of Norwalk, and Ray Adkins, superintendent for the contractor. Don Baker and R. O. Nelson represented the Baker & Hickey Co. of Columbus who will handle building of structures on the project.

State Highway Division Deputy Director William P. McKenna said that the length of the new four-lane, limited access freeway is 1.4 miles, but the total length of work which includes interchange ramps and connections raises the total to 2.5 miles.

The project begins at the East Liverpool north corporation line, passes under the Newell Bridge, and ends at the intersection of W. Third Street and Market St. An interchange with State Route 7 on W. Eighth St. will be provided.

This portion of U. S. Route 30 will be the first section of the Lake Erie to the Ohio River Freeway which has been put under contract in Columbiana County thus far.

The project contract price is $3,505,777. The completion date is set for October 31, 1962.

Cincinnati Bearcats Trip Houston, 74-71, in Overtime

Wooster Thumps Hiram Five, 79-57

Ohio Wesleyan Averages Only O.C. Defeat by Trouncing Otterbein, 71-57

By The Associated Press
The University of Cincinnati basketball team may not be quite what it was with the Big O, but the Bearcats are still tough to beat in their home environs.

As a result, the 'Cats today boast a respectable 8-3 won-lost log, the latest triumph coming Thursday night over invading Houston in a 74-71 overtime duel.

It was the major game on an Ohio college slate that also saw Ohio Wesleyan chalk up its sixth Ohio Conference triumph in seven tries to stay on the heels of league leading Wittenberg (4-0 in the O.C.). It was a sweet one for the Bishops as they avenged their only conference defeat by turning back Otterbein 71-57.

Wooster thumped hapless Hiram 79-57 in another O.C. tilt, Ohio Northern (3-0) in the league) beat Bluffton 62-58 and Wilmington topped Findlay 67-61 in Mid-O. Ohio League games, and in nonleagueers, Akron smashed John Carroll 103-54, Capital nosed out Cedarville 63-62 and Villa Madonna (Ky.) whipped Central State 84-63.

Cincinnati and Houston found themselves in a 63-all knot after 36 minutes of play and the score stayed there as the Bearcats waltzed through a stall for the last four minutes of regulation time waiting for that last good shot. But they threw the ball away with 10 seconds left, Houston missed a shot, and it was into overtime.

Then Cincy went for the baskets and got 'em. Bob Wiesenbahr, making six points in the extra period, totaled 20. Ted Luckenbill meshed 30 for the Texans.

Ohio Wesleyan led all the way against the visiting Otters, never by less than eight points after a 35-25 intermission bulge. Ray Slabough's 18 points paced the 48.4 per cent field goal shooting Bish ops.

In the close ones, Ohio Northern got fielders from Lon Norris and Joe Miller in the last minute to snap a 58-58 tie with Bluffton; Capital, ahead most of the way, suddenly found itself behind Cedarville 62-61 with 1:29 to go but bounced back to win on Joel Dill's goal.

Akron's Zippers, another tough Ohio Conference entry, turned up for a post-New Year's title drive by racking up victory No. 6 in nine starts over-all. Alex Adams dunked 24 points and Bob Greene 20 for Akron as it almost chased John Carroll off its own court.

Captains Elected For Senior Bowl

South Mild Favorite In Game Saturday

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — North quarterback Dick Norman of Stanford and South center E. J. Holub, the Texas Tech terror, were chosen today as offensive captains for the 12th annual Senior Bowl all-star football game Saturday.

On defense, Carl Kammerer of College of Pacific, 242-pound middle linebacker, was elected North captain, and Charles (Bo) Strange of Louisiana State, was picked for the South. Strange is tabbed for duty at a linebacker post.

Holub, a 225-pounder will alternate with Tom Goode of Mississippi State as offensive center, and also work as middle linebacker for the Southerners. The 221-pound Goode also will see duty on defense as a corner linebacker.

Coach Weeb Ewbank of the South and Jim Lee Howell of the North scheduled finishing touches to their offensive patterns today. Both have demonstrated in drills this week that they will rely heavily on pro-type passing and both appeared satisfied they have the men to handle that chore.

Norman has done most of the passing for the North in practice, while Norman Snead of Wake Forest has carried most of the load for the South, with an assist from Howard Dyer of VMI.

The South is a mild favorite over the North at five points. Approximately 40,000 are expected for the 2:30 p.m., CST, kickoff.

Kiwanis, Arndt's, Deming Co. Gain Volleyball Decisions

League-leading Kiwanis rolled to three victories over Electric Furnace office last night in the Adult Volleyball League.

Kiwanis dumped the Office team by identical scores of 15-5 in all three battles to enhance its record to 20-1 for the year.

In other loop tussles, close games marked the action as Deming managed to cop two games from Eljer, 12-9, 12-7 while Eljer took the final tilt, 13-10 and Arndt Insurance swept three games from the Hunt Plungers, 13-10, 13-11 and 15-13.

Blasts Pikers

Egad, Friends, Hoople Picks Quakers Again

By AMOS B. HOOPLE (Toledo Scotch Booster President)

Egad friends, your ole biddy buddy Hoop is disappointed because those nice fans who use the wireless don't tell me their names when they call during my snack (burp!) period.

Folks, when you tell me that you are winning that filthy green stuff and those silver throw away pieces because you bet on my great truth (which has never been wrong on 16 consecutive predictions) every week and then don't tell me your name it makes me very sad and you a PIKER!

Well, friends, I have many area basketball games to predict for you and so I better get out my foggy crystal football and get busy. So away we go! Har-rumph!

Here's the way I see Friday and Saturday night's games:

FRIDAY

Wellsville 68, Toronto 51: The Bengals have lost two straight games and are now 2-2 so watch out for them to play a crooked game against outclassed Toronto.

Minerva 53, Louisville 45: The Lions and Leopards meet in the jungle with the king being the victor. Minerva wins again in the Tri-County — they have 29 in a row.

Leetonia 55, Lisbon 42: No, Coach Pike, not this week but your day is coming. The Bears will win their third in a row.

Springfield Local 56, North Lima 50: Springfield has won two games and the Zippers only one. This will be a close one.

Greenford 57, Lowellville 52: Watch out, the Bobcats are showing their teeth and the Rockets are starting to fizzle. I like Greenford because it has won two of its last three games. Besides, it's fun to pick upsets.

Fairfield-Waterford 70, Malvern 45: The Rebels will take no pity on the visiting Malvern team and will still profess to be the winningest team in the county.

Liberty 69, McDonald 49: The Liberty squad is the best Class A team in the Youngstown area. McDonald is also Class A but no match for the Leopards.

New Cumberland 64, Beaver Local 60: The Beavers have trouble winning from W. Va. teams and even though the game is on Ohio ground the Beaver five will lose its second.

Poland 57, Sebring 45: Sebring has dropped five in a row and if its close loss to Alliance means anything I like Poland.

Columbiana 61, East Palestine 52: The Bulldogs boast the best scorer in the county but will not be enough to cope with the Clippers' four top point-producers.

Canfield 63, Youngstown Wilson 48: If and when the Cardinals learn how to handle the ball and put their height to good use they will be tough. This could be it! Besides, Wilson is 1-5 over the season and Canfield is 3-3.

Carrollton 51, United Local 48: The Golden Eagles will take it on the chin for the sixth time in a row, despite a fine showing in the last three periods against Beaver Local last week. United has won only its opening game this year.

Antonelli, Kirkland Sign With Indians

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indian announced today that he has received signed contracts from pitcher Johnny Antonelli and outfielder Willie Kirkland.

The Indians received the two players from the San Francisco Giants last month in exchange for outfielder Harvey Kuenn.

The signings brought to four the number of Indians in the fold for 1961. The first signed contracts were received from two infield regulars—first baseman Vic Power and second baseman Johnny Temple.

First Ohio Antlered Doe Bagged at Arsenal

The first antlered doe ever reported taken in Ohio was bagged by a gunner at the Ravenna Arsenal, Portage County, on December 24. So reports Kenneth Duncan, Summit County game protector who was on duty for the Ohio Division of Wildlife at the arsenal checking station.

Duncan said that the 125-pound doe had eight-inch spikes which were in the velvet. This is to be expected since does do not normally possess the proper hormone which results in hardening and maturing of the antlers.

Antlered female deer are rare. Occasionally, a mixup in blood chemistry does result in a doe growing antlers but they do not normally mature. They retain the velvet since their blood chemistry does not normally permit completion of the antler development cycle.

The Old Boy Himself

Champion 59, Jackson-Milton 55: This will be a real squeaker but the winless Blue Jays will stay winless for the seventh straight time.

SATURDAY

Salem 57, Toledo Scott 47: Toledo should have played this game in Columbus a few years ago, they might have won then. Coach Cabas has his crew ready to grab their fourth in a row. Scott was so sure of losing they left the jayvee team safely at home.

Beaver Local 75, Salineville 53: Beaver will be playing the second night in a row at home and after the loss to New Cumberland Friday night the Beavers will have to look good against the Indians, who have won two games and lost four.

Louisville 45, Lisbon 40: Louisville will bounce back after getting dumped by Minerva but Lisbon will roll for the seventh time this year. Coach Gary Pike's boys are still looking for their first win.

United Local 59, Jackson-Milton 50: United will snap a six game losing streak against the Blue Jays who will suffer their eighth defeat without a win.

Bristol 60, Western Reserve 45: This is a return match between these two teams and I have to go along with Bristol because they won the first game, 66-40.

Greenford 66, North Lima 45: The Bobcats have started a winning streak and want to keep it going. North Lima will lose its seventh against one victory.

Fairfield-Waterford 63, McDonald 60: This Inter-County League game will give the winner sole possession of first place. I like the Rebels because of their unblemished record. McDonald has the league's leading scorer but that's all.

East Palestine 59, Leetonia 49: What can I say? The Bulldogs are a better team than Leetonia and should win easily if the Bears will roll over and play dead. But you can be sure Leetonia will not hand them the game on a silver platter.

Columbiana 65, Sebring 40: The Trojans have a breather against the Trojans and should have no trouble in taking their sixth victory against one loss. Columbiana is the best Class A team that has come along in many a year and could give any Class AA team fits.

West Branch 55, Canfield 50: The Warriors will win and take over as the favorite to win the Turnpike Conference crown. West Branch is not so tall as Canfield, but neither was Columbiana; however, the Warriors have shooters and rebounders that are far superior to the Cardinal crew.

Minerva 55, Poland 52: This Tri-County game will pack them in but the Lions will pack in the most important thing—points. This will be the 31st consecutive loop win for Minerva and will give them the top spot in the league with a 3-0 mark.

East Liverpool 60, Youngstown South 50: I like the Potters because they won their own tournament, which they were not supposed to win, and Kenny Cunningham is fourth in the county in scoring. South lost to Sharon, 64-48 so Liverpool should win its fifth in a row against an opening game defeat.

Pro Cager Hurt By Flying Fist

Ken Sears of Knicks Suffers Broken Jaw

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A fist fight which resulted in a broken jaw for New York's Ken Sears has stirred up a heated exchange of words between Knicks' Coach Carl Braun and Jocko Collins, supervisor of referees in the National Basketball Association.

The fight Thursday night broke out between Sears, the Knicks' third-best scorer, and George Lee of the Detroit Pistons just before New York took a lead late in the third period and went on to win 104-102. It resulted after some pushing and shoving in the pivot.

In the second game of the Convention Hall doubleheader, Wilt Chamberlain continued his sensational scoring pace, getting 56 points for the second time this week and taking over the scoring lead from Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles in leading Philadelphia to a 139-127 victory over Syracuse.

In other games Boston retained its one-game lead in the Eastern Division by beating Cincinnati 125-107 and Los Angeles upset St. Louis 110-96.

Braun went to the referees' dressing room immediately after the game and demanded that Sid Borgia recommend a fine for Lee in his report of the game.

"It better cost him something, Jocko," Braun said. "If they (the league officials) let this sort of thing go on we'll be right back to the old days."

Collins fired back: "He's (Braun) the biggest con man in the game. He tried to referee while he was playing for 12 years and he's still trying..."

Industrial Mining Roms Again In Slo-Break League

Undeclared Industrial Mining and second-place Salem Auto rolled to easy victories in the Slo-Break Basketball League last night.

Industrial Mining raced to its fourth straight win by downing the Sekely-Jaycees, 42-25, behind the high-scoring of Phil Wenner who pumped in 18 tallies.

Mining led from the opening jump as they took quarter leads of 17-8, 23-11 and 33-19.

Bill Baker paced the Sekely attack with 13 points and was followed by Don Abrams with 11 markers.

Salem Auto handed Hunt's Independent a 27-12 loss to gain its third win against a lone setback.

Hunt's kept the game close for the first half by trailing 12-7 at intermission, but in the second half Salem Auto drilled in 15 markers to five for Hunt's to win handily.

Rich Youngpeter was high man for Salem Auto with 11 points and P. Baird led the Hunt five with five markers.

The league standings and next week's schedule is as follows:

Ed Daugherty Tops City Cage Scorers

There is a new scoring leader in the Salem Class A Basketball League this week.

Ed Daugherty of once-beaten Beall Battery & Electric moved into the number one spot around Butch Platt of Salem Stamping on the strength of a 19-point effort on Wednesday night against the Berlin Merchants.

Daugherty has accounted for 139 markers in seven games for a 19.9 average. Platt is only two points behind with 137. His average is 19.9. The number three man and holder of the best average in the league is Big Dean Nicholson of Herron Transfer.

Nicholson is carrying a lousy 22.5 average with 135 points in only six games.

Beall's and Salem Stamping have two men apiece on the list of top-10 scorers in the league. Besides Daugherty, Beall's has Frank Shagnot who is ninth. Stamping has Platt (2nd) and Bill Pauline (6th).

14-Year-Old Salem Boy Placed on Probation

A 14-year-old Salem youth was placed on probation to his parents for driving a motor vehicle without the owner's consent after he appeared in Juvenile Court at Lisbon Thursday.

He was cited by Salem police who discovered the car parked at a gas station after the youth had wrecked it earlier.

Judge Louis Tobin set an 8 p.m. curfew on the youth and ordered him to make restitution for the damages to the car.

He must report to Juvenile Officer Cornelius Csepke each week in Salem.

MAYORS TO MEET

LISBON — A meeting of the Columbiana County Mayors Assn. will be held Thursday at the Municipal Building in East Liverpool. A county-wide Civil Defense organization will be the main topic of discussion. Mayor Ralph Kennedy of Leetonia, president, will preside.

DIES AFTER CRASH

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Walter L. Kellerman, 43, of Rt. 3, Cortland, died in Trumbull Memorial Hospital Thursday night shortly after his automobile crashed into a disabled tractor-trailer rig on Ohio 46 northeast of here.

The Highway Patrol said Charles Dorig, 27, of Youngstown, had parked his truck at the side of the road after it broke down and was preparing to light flares when the crash occurred. Kellerman, commander of Clarence Hyde Post of the American Legion here, was en route to Warren for a legion meeting.

Six County Youths Placed on Probation

LISBON — Three East Liverpool youths, two aged 12 and one 11, were placed on probation to their parents after a hearing Thursday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin during which they admitted entering the Boyce Church annex in East Liverpool Dec. 23.

The parents of the youths made restitution for the damages, the boys must report each Saturday to Chris Pusey, juvenile officer, in East Liverpool.

The boys said they entered the church to heat water on an electric stove to make a gelatin dessert.

They were given the same terms of probation as the East Liverpool youths. Pusey said that all the items taken have been returned to the store.

Dawes Named Lisbon Rural Mail Carrier

LISBON — Donald H. Dawes of Lisbon RD 2, will begin Saturday as a regular mail carrier for the Lisbon RD 2 area, according to Postmaster Howard Hochmann.
